Fire destroyed the LHS auditorium on Sept. 4, Saturday night. Fire departments from Milltown, Cushing, Frederic, and Luck fought the blaze for 3 hours before getting it under control. The entire auditorium and its contents were destroyed, and rooms underneath it were damaged by heat, smoke, and water. An arsonist was later caught and convicted.

The 3 day Labor Day weekend was extended for the rest of the week, while volunteers and school personnel removed what could be salvaged. Among what was destroyed were band uniforms and choir robes, the larger musical instruments, audio-visual equipment, and about $6000 worth of music.

Plans for rebuilding were made, and a special referendum was held on Feb. 28, for authorizing the issue of bonds for construction. The first proposal, approving the addition, passed, but the second proposal, approving an auditorium, did not.
Directors

The LHS Faculty, staff, and administration are vital to the production of the play. They work with the cast in setting the mood and the plot. Above: Marty Messar scrub up after pancake supper. Upper Right: Evelyn Johansen is busy in the kitchen. Right: Mr. Lake and Mr. Steen discuss news of the day.
The Toughest Decisions

Many tough decisions had to be made by the school board after the fire:
"The biggest problem was to put together a building to satisfy and better the education of the students with the least amount of expense to the taxpayers." Herbert Byl, President
"...getting everything into the new building with a minimum of mistakes and getting it up as soon as possible..." Gerogette Murphy
"To go with a general construction or general management." Roger Sandstrom

"Determining the needs of the school, both present and future were tough decisions." Sylvan Erickson, Clerk
"The toughest decision was to include the auditorium or not..." Ted Anderson, Vice President

Also taking part in the decisions are:

1. Roger Steen, Guidance Counselor
2. Jerome R. Larson, High School Principal
3. Robert L. Clifton, Elementary Principal
4. Richard E. Walker, Administrator
The Real Purpose of School...

... is academics, although sometimes it may not seem like it. Sandwiched between contests, clinics, games, tournaments, trips, and deadlines, LHS students manage to find themselves in classrooms studying subjects from algebra to agriculture.

Right: Art classes took on a major project when they painted the cardinal on the gym's east wall. Below Left: To allow students to progress at their rates, some classes are offered independently, shorthand being one of the more popular. Below Center: Despite cramped facilities in half of the library, the band and choir do manage to fit. Below Right: Two new classes were offered this year - government and physiology. Lab periods in physiology were often spent examining fetal pigs. Bottom Left: English is required, but choices of semester classes are offered that allow students to concentrate on subjects that interest them most. Bottom Right: Learning to type can be frustrating, but it often has its light moments.

For Better or for Worse

For better or for worse must have been written in the faculty contracts, because most of the post-fire difficulties are definitely not "for better." Classrooms were shrunk, relocated, and removed. Teachers proved to be highly adaptable creatures. Many changed from ideal surroundings to lower temperatures, smaller rooms, impossible acoustics, and no water. Everyone at LHS contributed to pulling the system back to normal, the faculty members did their part as well by putting up with the worst. Here they are; fifteen courageous instructors of high school students, who braved the depressions of claustrophobia, lice, frostbite, laryngitis (from yelling over the LHS pep band), and the dreaded sleeping student syndrome caused by student exhaustion due to the overwhelming number of times the stairways become feats to conquer.

Barb Berg enjoys playing the piano and organ, and reading. She graduated from Augsburg with a major in English and a Library Science minor. You know you're a teacher when..."a student's eyes open wide and brighten with understanding."

Andy Dolny worked for a triple major at Bemidji State... Social Studies, Physical Education, and Art. His favorite leisure-time activities are golfing, fishing and basketball.

Sheila Brom attended UW LaCrosse with a Physical Education major and a Math minor. She enjoys playing the guitar, doing macrame and embroidery and growing plants.
Tom Goulet attended Hibbing St. Jr. College and UM Duluth with a History/Soc. Studies major and a P.E. minor. The average LHS student "needs more pride in himself and then needs to exercise that pride toward other activities."

Dave King likes traveling, camping, canoeing, gardening, and family life. He graduated from UW River Falls with an Ag Education major and an Ag Engineering/Industrial Education minor. "My advice to the class of '80: Learn to care about others' feelings."

John Kinzler majored in Industrial Ed with a minor in Drivers Ed at UW Stout. He describes Friday with a strong "Amen." He enjoys bowling, fishing, and camping. You know you're a teacher when . . . "someone says thank-you."

Don Knudson gives this advice . . . "Accept the advice of others." He majored in Physics and Math and minored in Chemistry at UW Superior. He enjoys camping, canoeing, biking and playing the guitar.
Don Lake would like to see the student population at LHS 25% larger. He received his B.S. degree at Macalester in Economics and Secretarial Science. He received his M.S. degree at UW Superior in Guidance, Counseling, and Secondary School Administration.

Eunice Krey majored in English and minored in French at Gustavus Adolphus. Her advice is "Don't worry about the past or the future; take each day as it comes." Mrs. Krey enjoys stamp collecting and raising plants.

Stan Miller thinks "The average LHS student is apathetic, if the problem doesn't directly concern him." He attended Bethel College and attained his Master's in History at UW Superior. He enjoys hunting, fishing, and stamp collecting.

Marty Messar attend college at Stevens Point and UW Milwaukee. He enjoys outdoor recreation and all sports. He teaches Biology and Science at LHS.
John Nygren likes fishing, hunting, and painting. His advice to the freshman of '80 is "Take advantage of all the opportunities of LHS, you will never have another chance like now." He studied music at the University of Minnesota, and mastered in Instructional Leadership at UW-River Falls.

Ed Rebrovich enjoys bow hunting and wants to start trapping. He majored in Physical Education and minored in Biology at St. Cloud State University.

Esther Schwartz spends her spare time reading and golfing. She attended UW River Falls for English, History, and Library Science. The best advice she has ever gotten is "Never let the sun set on your anger."

Carol Winchell majored in Home Economics with a Biology minor at UW Stout. She would like to see more cooperation and respect at LHS. She likes all outdoor activities and handicrafts.
Always Ready to Lend a Helping Hand

Plot

The organizations and clubs of the LHS stage play truly develop the plot. The whole play comes into view when the cast performs the "extras" and shows pride in all accomplishments. Above: 8 cheerleaders; Patti Walsten, Cathy Tolan, Val Ellefson, Coni Porter, Linda Redman, Jill Sandstrom, and Loraine Rbovich. Upper right: Brian Tomlinson, Student Council president. Right: Deb Randall, Cloverleaf typist.

The National Honor Society attended the Nutcracker Suite Ballet in December at the Northrop Auditorium in Minneapolis. Members also helped at the parent-teacher conferences.

Honor Society also had a spring banquet at the Indianhead Supper Club.
Pom-Pon Squad Performs During Halftimes

During the fall, the squad performed at football game halftimes, and in November they attended a clinic at UW-Stout. There they learned many new routines that they performed at girls’ and boys’ basketball halftimes.

Horseshoe Staff Works With Bigger Book

The '76-'77 annual grew eight pages, giving the staff more room for creativity and expression. Along with the added pages came added problems - a small staff, getting the color pages in by April 1, and working every day for two weeks after school let out.

Right: Don Knudson advised the Horseshoe, Alison Schmidt served as editor and Danette Morten, her assistant.

Cloverleaf Staff Overcomes

Overcomes What? Because of the fire, the photographers' darkroom was lost. Working with a paper without pictures is tough, but the editors and staff did overcome and produced a newspaper of high quality.

Drama Club

Forensics

Lonna Hanson received an "A" at sub-district and went on to the district contest at Hudson, receiving another "A." She competed in the state contest at Madison where she got a "B." Other students who participated in the sub-district forensics contest at Osceola were Karen Jensen, Lee Creuzer, Carol Clausen, Jean Walker, and missing from picture, René Morten. They all received "B" ratings. Mrs. Krey was Forensics Coach.
First Year for Stamp Club

The stamp club is a new addition to the Luck High School activities. This is the first year for the organized club. Members attended the Metapex and Twinpex stamp shows in Minnesota, displayed stamps at the 1976 Spring Concert, and put together a mini-float that was in the Homecoming parade. The club sold concessions at two basketball games to increase their funds. Meetings are held at noon on Wednesdays.

Question:
How many people are too many to fit in the room?

The fire left the music department with the biggest problem - where to work. The solution was to build a wall dividing the library in half. Music classes were held on the east end. Storage space was provided in the gym storage rooms. Conditions were cramped to say the least - but everyone survived.
Mood

The Athletes at LHS set a mood for the play. Their hours of work to show pride in themselves and their school showed up on stage. Above: Alan Tomlinson, a sophomore varsity BB player for '76-'77. It's Always Darkest Before Dawn . . .

... so stick with it, Cardinals, tomorrow can only be a brighter day. Football is one of America's favorites, as well as a favorite of LHS. For the second year the Cards have remained unvictorious, but they have fought with courage and have shown school pride and sportsmanship. It's not easy being a loser so the team doesn't look at it that way. They've taken a sport they love and, even in the worst times, proven that respect of the game and the ability to keep going are more important than winning. Vince Lombardi said, "We never lost a game, just ran out of time while we were behind." His words hold the feeling and understanding of the LHS Cardinal football squad of 1976.

"Golf '76 was a "swinging" year for the girls' golf team." We won all our matches in season play. This year Luck had its first invitational meet, which we also won. The Regional tournaments were held in Luck. The weather did not cooperate, however, as we quit after nine holes of play. It was quite a sight to see all of those umbrellas running around the course. We won our regional, qualifying us for the sectional tournament at Black River Falls. We went down to Black River Falls on Thursday. That way we were able to play the course before the big meet. We spent the night in the Falls Motel. I'd say that we slept there, but five girls in one room just don't get much sleep. Mr. Steen can vouch for that. He had the room next to us. The team's season came to a sad end the following day when we finished third. I was fortunate enough to be the sectional medalist, qualifying me to compete in the state tournament at Lawsonia. The state tourney is an experience I'll never forget, but hope that the whole team will go there next year." - Linda Redman

"Get the ball and go with it!"

Marty Messar

Following Coach Messar's advice the team got the ball and they went all the way to the state tournaments. The road was long and hard and much "mental discipline" was needed. Being on the top was a hard place to be. There were times when the team was down and ready to give in, but they didn't; they never stopped giving. It was worth it - being one of the teams participating in the 1977 Girls' State Basketball Tournament was something no one will ever forget. It left the team with many happy memories. Tracksters Send Steen to State

At state, Luck finished fifth in the total class C schools, due to the efforts of Lori Steen who placed first in the 220 yd. hurdles, second in the 220 yd. run, but failed to place in the long jump. Lori has gone to state four years.

Boys’ Golf

The boys’ golf team placed second in the conference meets this year with a 10-2 win-loss record. They then went to Regionals, to place second behind Superior. Going on to the Sectionals which were held at Hayward, they placed seventh.

Letter winners this year were Brian Tomlinson, 3-years; Ron Steen, 2-years; Daryl Bazy, 1-year; Jeff Jensen, 1 year; Bill Rebovich, 1-year.

"Taking Care of Business"

The '76 homecoming week started off with dress up days. Then on Thursday, the old tradition of a bonfire was changed. Instead, a powder puff football game was played. The victorious senior and sophomore girls walked over the junior and freshman girls.

Throughout the week, clubs and classes were scheming up ideas to win the "best float" award. The junior class took first place with freshmen and seniors taking second and third.

Finally Friday was here bringing the pep fest, the parade, the dance and - of course - the big game. The homecoming float carried 1975 royalty Tammy Joy and Bevin Sandstrom, 1976 king and queen Harvey Fjorden and Jackie Lundquist, attendants (seniors) Sue Banitt, Lori Steen, (junior) Loraine Rebrough, (sophomore) Jill Sandstrom, (freshman) Ann Steenberg.

At last, the game is over and the dance begins. The memory of the 34-22 loss fades away to the music of "Free Fall."

The Class of '78 presents

The Junior class of Luck High School presented its Junior-Senior Prom, April 30, 1977. Music for the occasion was provided by "Punk."

A banquet was held at Perry's Supper Club before the dance.

"Precious and Few"

The Junior Class spent many long hard hours in preparation for this year's Junior-Senior Prom. Due to a limited amount of money the class was held to a very tight budget. Plans were drawn up and the supplies were ordered. At last the time came to start putting up the decorations. During the week before the Prom the gym was magically transformed into a beautiful prom setting.

After the prom was over and the decorations were taken down the gym returned to its normal setting, but the memories will linger on in the minds of all who attended.
