LUCK HIGH SCHOOL

Small schools, because they can give more individual attention to the student, can do just as fine a job of educating the student as can the larger schools; if they are properly equipped. Luck high school is so equipped and in addition it has an enviable record of service to the community and the students it serves.

You will do well to investigate the opportunities offered by a high school of this sort.

In addition to our approved course of study we encourage athletics, forensics, boy and girl scout organizations, band, orchestra and glee clubs, dramatics and school publications. When the need for a change arises the school makes the necessary adjustments at once.

The experienced faculty and an understanding board, as well as a friendly community will try to do their best for you.

For further information, see or write the Board of Education: Irving Edling, Director; Harold Lindgren, Clerk; Arthur Harris, Treasurer. The local high school principal or the agriculture and home economics instructors are also available for information about the school.
